

Small dollar amounts

given directly to people with great ideas

can have huge impacts

Utah students won an international science
competition at the world level

Quick Facts

283 Ideas Funded

93,502+  Students

 283
Schools Impacted

63  Organizations Supported

High school students learned about half life and the perils of hanging out in abandoned
uranium mines

12-14 year old girls from rural Utah got to pilot real airplanes around Cache Valley

Participating in two STEM competitions made students three times more likely to want a STEM job*

*International Journal of Science Education